Dear Vishal,

Your Journey Begins Now.

We are delighted to inform you that, after a thorough evaluation by our scientific committee, your application has left a strong impression on us.

Your enthusiasm, clear vision, and commitment to shaping the future of the space industry while addressing Earth's challenges for the benefit of humanity truly stood out. Your drive to contribute to global sustainable development goals aligns perfectly with the forward-thinking vision we foster. As a result, we are pleased to offer you a place in the Space Entrepreneurship Master Program at EIIIS.

We believe you possess the key qualities we seek in our candidates - qualities that will not only enrich our program but also drive meaningful progress in both space and sustainable development efforts.

Congratulations on this remarkable achievement!

We look forward to seeing the impact you will make on this exciting journey.

Best regards,

Hady Milani
